District of Columbia Fatherhood Initiative (DCFI)

SECTION I GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTION

The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 (PRWORA) created the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families Program (TANF). The District of Columbia established its TANF program in 1997. To support welfare reform's goals, States were allowed to develop strategies to meet the needs of low-income families and serve fathers. The widespread acceptance of fatherhood programs contributes to greater understanding of the importance of father involvement, especially in low-income families. The Department of Human Services (DHS) is the lead agency in the District of Columbia for the implementation of the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) Program, under PRWORA. The development of the District of Columbia Fatherhood Initiative (DCFI) has established a coordination point for government and community based entities in the District for fatherhood programs/services that are not punitive yet address systemic environmental issues hindering fathers from continuous voluntary involvement in their child's life. The Department has funds available to assist eligible organizations in the expansion and delivery of fatherhood programs and services to TANF-eligible fathers.

The objective of this effort is to provide a holistic approach to service delivery that will meet the needs of fathers and their families to ensure that fathers have the fundamental skills necessary to contribute to the financial, emotional and social development of their children. In addition, the programs and services offered attempt to remove the many environmental barriers (economic, educational, employment, etc.) that negatively impact a father's involvement and support with his family and child(ren).

BACKGROUND

Extensive research clearly indicates that fathers are a necessary and vital part of a child's development. Strong linkages to a father's involvement in the life of a child have been found to effect socioeconomic indicators such as education levels, health status, and income. More often than not, these indicators also have a direct effect on whether or not a father forms a family with the birth mother and/or actively pursues a relationship with his child(ren).

In the District of Columbia, it is the obligation of public and private entities and the government to do our part in removing the barriers to positive male involvement and reduce fatherless-ness and unplanned births. As a result of the positive strides made on behalf of the mothers who are low-income or on TANF, we feel it is time to devote the same effort to our fathers in the District of Columbia.

In 2001, the City Council of the District of Columbia amended the Child Support Enforcement Act to include diversions to incarceration. Those diversion activities include work preparation and skill programs; non-residential alcohol and substance abuse programs; and educational programs. The amendment further allows for the presumption of "willful violation" to be rebutted in the event a father was incarcerated, hospitalized, or disabled during the period of non-support.

On May 28, 2002, Mayor Anthony Williams issued Mayor's Order #2002-98, establishing the District of Columbia Fatherhood Initiative (DCFI), and announced its establishment at the National Partnership for Community Leadership's Fourth Annual International Fatherhood Conference, held in Washington, DC. The conference brought together a global audience of government, business, civic leaders, policy makers, service providers, and concerned citizens to discuss the social ramifications of the absent father.

The concept for the Initiative gained momentum through ongoing collaborative relationships with the Center for Workforce Development (CWD), the Center for the Study of Social Policy (CSSP), the National Practitioners Network for Fathers and Families (NPNFF), the National Partnership for Community Leadership (NPCL), and the National Fatherhood Initiative (NFI).

The District of Columbia Fatherhood Initiative (DCFI) combines the expertise and best practice models of national fatherhood experts and organizations, the resources of government agencies and the service commitment of community-based service partners to address the array of critical issues facing District fathers and their families.

During FY 2004, approximately 800 fathers received services from one of the seven community and faith-based organizations who received sub-grant awards to deliver fatherhood/parenting services under this Initiative. In FY 2005, approximately 1,042 fathers received services through the program. Of that number, 379 fathers were reconnected with their children; 75 fathers obtained sustainable employment; 33 limited/non-English speaking fathers were served (32 Spanish-speakers and 1 Amharic-speaker); and 152 previously incarcerated fathers received services.

TARGET POPULATION

Funds for this program are specifically intended for usage for fathers who are District of Columbia residents and are:

- Biologically or legally related to a minor child
- Custodial and non-custodial fathers
- TANF-eligible and/or underemployed or unemployed fathers
- Low literacy/educational skills

DHS also encourages application submissions from organizations with a proven record of success in serving the following populations:

Previously Incarcerated Persons (PIP)

DHS welcomes the opportunity to partner with organizations with the capacity (staff and/or resources) to assist previously incarcerated fathers navigate the many challenges and obstacles that stand in the way of reconnecting with family and friends, sustained employment, and the entire community.

Limited/Non English Proficient Residents (LNEP)

DHS welcomes the opportunity to partner with organizations with the capacity (staff and/or resources) to meet the fatherhood/parenting needs of District of Columbia fathers with limited and/or no English proficiency.

Teen Fathers

DHS welcomes the opportunity to partner with organizations with the capacity (staff and/or resources) to meet the fatherhood/parenting needs of District of Columbia fathers who are at or under the age of nineteen (19).

ELIGIBLE ORGANIZATIONS/ENTITIES

Applications are requested from all non-governmental private entities including community development corporations, community action agencies, community-based and faith-based organizations, and public and private non-profit services providers.

SECTION II PROGRAM SCOPE

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

The DC Department of Human Services (DHS) maintains a commitment to assisting providers and practitioners in the development of solid infrastructures that support programming and services designed to increase the involvement of fathers in the lives of their children.

DHS is seeking proposals that will address the needs of TANF-eligible fathers and the elimination of specific barriers that exist in the lives of both custodial and non-custodial fathers simultaneously. The Department further seeks to fund applicants who address the fundamental needs of the family through father-focused activities. Programs should increase father presence where appropriate by supporting access and visitation, team parenting, counseling, etc. Each proposed activity must have the ability to be easily integrated into a continuum of services through a basic referral process.

The Department will consider applicants who propose addressing the prescribed program objectives by clearly delineating how father-presence will be increased in the lives of children and families. Greater consideration will be given to applicants who propose serving low-income fathers who may be avoiding the child support system due to a lack of resources, and previously incarcerated persons, who are fathers, who have returned or will soon return to District neighborhoods.

In order to ensure cohesiveness around program delivery and the building of a continuum of care network for fathers, the Department is seeking proposals that focus primarily on service delivery strategies in the areas of employment, co-parenting, and healthy lifestyles.

Building Capacity for Employment

One of the primary barriers to consistent father presence in the lives of their children and families is the ability to obtain sustainable employment. In order to build capacity for sustained employment, the Department seeks to fund programs that will specifically address this issue. Assisting fathers in the areas of occupational skills training, life-skills training, employment literacy and general literacy will increase their ability to become and remain employed. The elimination of this barrier is often a pre-requisite to negotiating co-parenting responsibilities.

Co-parenting

When marriage or the re(unification) of both parents is not an option, there remains the possibility of co-parenting or team parenting for the purpose of having both parents in the life of a child. One of the first steps for a father is the establishment of paternity. Establishing paternity ensures a father of his ability to exercise paternal rights when necessary. To further assist fathers through a continuum of service design, the Department seeks to assist parents, when necessary, in the establishment of paternity. To further this effort, the Department encourages the submission of applications from organizations with the capacity to provide paternity establishment services.

Additionally, programs should assist fathers in healthy relationship building and possibly family re-unification. Some of the methods the Department is seeking through applicants are partnerships with the District's office of Child Support Enforcement to better educate fathers on the system and their rights, roles and expectations. The Department also seeks to fund applicants that propose providing assistance with the development of parenting agreements, mediation services, counseling, and various types of access and visitation services.

Healthy Lifestyles

Good health plays a significant role in a father's ability to care for the financial and emotional needs of a child. The Department seeks to fund applicants who propose activities that will promote healthy lifestyle activities and preventative healthcare strategies as a way of life. Those activities should include but not be limited to health screening in the areas of physical, mental, and dental health, including service intervention.

Finally, the Department seeks to fund applicants who can demonstrate their ability to track the progress and outcomes of fathers through individual assessment and case management activity that supports a father's willingness to succeed and become an integral part of his child's/children's life. Case management must be a core component of all proposed service delivery strategies.

Specific Services

The Department seeks to fund applicants who have a program track record and/or the demonstrated potential to deliver the following specific services or combination of services.

Programs will be funded in accordance to the Department's needs. Areas of service delivery must be identified with a maximum of three of the following service-delivery areas:

- Employment Training and Job Placement Assistance
- Life-Skills Training
- Individual Counseling and Group/Peer Interaction
- Mediation Services and Parental Agreements

- Family Formation and/or Re-unification Services
- Access and Visitation Activities and Assistance
- Effective Parenting Skills for Young Fathers
- Basic Education and Literacy Skills Development
- Child Support Enforcement Ombudsman Services
- Addiction Recovery Services
- Health and Dental Care Assistance
- Needs of Previously Incarcerated Persons

The Department encourages tangible collaboration with private, public, and governmental entities. All collaboration and partnerships must be identified through the submission of the Collaboration Commitment Form, Attachment G, found in the Attachments section of the RFA.

PERFORMANCE INDICATORS

The applicant shall submit monthly reports to the DHS/Office of Grants Management by the fifteenth day of each month regarding the progress towards completion of tasks and requirements outlined in the scope of services. Such reports must contain the information in a format approved by the DHS/Office of Grants Management Grants Administrator. Reports shall contain, at a minimum, response to the following performance indicators:

LANGUAGE ACCESS ACT OF 2004

The Language Access Act of 2004 was enacted by Mayor Anthony A. Williams on April 21, 2004. The Act's purpose is to provide greater access and participation in public services, programs and activities for residents of the District of Columbia with limited or no-English proficiency (LEP/NEP).

The Act requires four things from District government programs, departments and services with major public contact. These four things include:

1. Assess the need for language services (Annual Baseline Assessment).
2. Provide written translation of vital documents into any non-English language spoken by an LEP/NEP population that constitutes 3% or 500 individuals, whichever is less, of the population served or encountered, or likely to be served or encountered.

3. Provide oral interpretation for limited/non English-proficient residents seeking services and/or referrals (DC Language Access Line or Other).
4. Provide cultural competency training opportunities for staff person occupying public-contact positions within the organization (DHS sponsored and/or supported)

Applicants must factor into their budget, proposed costs for language translation and interpretation costs. Applicants may feel free to use the DC Language Access Line (Tele-Interpretation Service) at a charge of $1.60 per minute.

SECURITY CLEARANCE REQUIREMENTS

The Provider shall submit to the GA or his designee, not later than twenty (20) working days prior to the start date of grant performance, two completed fingerprinting charts and one personal history statement, using forms provided by the District, for all Provider personnel including sub grantee personnel who have access to the building in the performance of contract work. These forms shall be submitted for new employees before they can commence duty in the Facility.

Provider shall continue throughout the performance of the grant to provide the above security information for any new personnel, twenty (20) days in advance of the proposed assignment of such personnel. The District will make its best efforts to process the security information in twenty (20) days, but if the screening process takes longer than twenty (20) days, such delay shall not be a cause for extra payment to Provider.

Provider's "on-site" time measurement shall start when personnel actually start work after passing through security screening.

If the CO or GA receives an unsuitable report on any employee or prospective employee, the Provider shall be advised immediately that such employee or prospective employee cannot continue to work or be assigned to work under the grant.

The District has exclusive discretion over the granting, denying, withholding and terminating of clearances for employees and Provider personnel, including sub grantees. The District may, as it deems appropriate, authorize and grant temporary clearance to employees of the Provider. However, the granting of a temporary clearance to any such employee shall not be considered as assurance that full clearance will follow as a result or condition thereof and the granting of either temporary or full clearance shall in no way prevent, preclude or bar the withdrawal or termination of any such clearance by the District.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT OF 1990 (ADA)

During the performance of the grant, the Provider and any of its sub grantees shall comply with the ADA. The ADA makes it unlawful to discriminate in employment against a qualified individual with a disability. See 42 U.S.C. §12101 et seq.

REPORTING

The applicant shall submit a monthly report to the Grant Manager within the Department's Office of Grants Management by the 15th of each month. 5. A complete and accurate monthly tracking form that indicates the required monthly father information;

The applicant shall submit to DHS/OGM a final report no later than the 30th day after expiration of the Grant Agreement, summarizing all service delivery data, accomplishments, issues, and recommendations.

Failure to comply with these requirements may result in a letter of noncompliance issued to the organization, and placed in the organization's file at the DHS/OGM.

Internet-Based Outcomes Tracking System

DHS has acquired an internet-based outcomes tracking system for sub-grant recipients of the Office of Grants Management, to track performance and outcome measures. Additionally, if awarded, applicants must agree to attend all necessary trainings, technical assistance sessions, etc., surrounding usage of the software.

UNUSUAL INCIDENTS

The applicant shall report unusual incidents by facsimile, email, or telephone to DHS/OGM within 24 hours of the event, and in writing within five (5) days of the occurrence. To ensure confidentiality and security, records shall be kept in a locked file controlled by appropriate applicant staff.

The applicants shall retain records for at least three (3) years following final closeout of the grant.

The applicant shall provide the Grants Manager, Grants Administrator, and any other authorized representatives of the District, such access to its facilities, records, clients and staff as may be necessary for monitoring purposes.

DHS/OGM shall assign a staff person to monitor the program. SERVICE NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Programs funded under this grant will be expected to maintain individual father case files, which include a monthly update of the tracking form. The service needs assessment is to be developed cooperatively by the applicant and the father to outline specific goals and services, including long- and short-term goals, and the plan to achieve the goals. The father must indicate their understanding and agreement with the plan by providing their signature and date on the appropriate form(s). The service needs assessment should be updated to reflect any changes in achieving the specified goals.

EVALUATION

The Grants Administrator shall be authorized to assess the applicant's performance with respect to accomplishing the purposes of the Grant Agreement. AUDITS

At any time or times before final payment and three (3) years thereafter, the District may have the applicant's expenditure statements and source documentation audited.

NON-DISCRIMINATION IN THE DELIVERY OF SERVICES

In accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Public Law 88-352), as amended, no person shall, on the grounds of race, color, religion, nationality, sex, or political opinion, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under, any program activity receiving Fatherhood Initiative grant funds.

In accordance with the DC Human Rights Act of 1977, as amended, DC Official Code Section 2-1401.01 et seq. (Act) the District of Columbia does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, personal appearance, sexual orientation, family status, family responsibilities, matriculation, political affiliation, disability, source of income, or place of residence or business. Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination which is also prohibited by the Act. Discrimination in violation of the Act will not be tolerated. Violators will be subject to disciplinary actions.

In accordance with the DC Language Access Act of 2004, District government programs, departments, and services must assess the need for, and offer, oral language services and provide written translations of vital documents into any non-English language spoken by a limited or non-English proficient population that constitutes 3% or 500 individuals, whichever is less, of the population served or encountered, or likely to be served or encountered.

FAITH-BASED PROVISION

Religious organizations are eligible, on the same basis as any other organization to participate as long as their CSBG funded services are provided consistent with the Establishment Clause and the Free Exercise Clause or the First Amendment to the United States Constitution, pursuant to 45 C.F.R. 260.34(b)(1).

No Federal CSBG funds provided directly to participating organizations may be expended for inherently religious activities, such as worship, religious instruction, or proselytization. If an organization conducts such activities, it must offer them separately, in time or location, from the programs or services for which it receives direct Federal CSBG funds under this part, and participation must be voluntary for the beneficiaries of those programs or services. See 45 C.F.R. 260.34(c).

A religious organization that participates in the CSBG program will retain its independence from Federal, State, and local government and may continue to carry out its mission, including the definition, practice and expression of its religious beliefs, provided that it does not expend Federal CSBG funds that it receives directly to support any inherently religious activities, such as worship, religious instruction, or proselytization. Among other things, faith-based organizations may use space in their facilities to provide CSBG funded services without removing religious art, icons, scriptures, or other symbols. In addition, a Federal CSBG funded religious organization retains the authority over its internal governance, and it may retain religious terms in its organization's name, select its board members on a religious basis and include religious reference in its organization's mission statements and other governing documents. See 45 C.F.R. 260.34(d).

The participation of a religious organization in, or its receipt of funds from, a CSBG program does not affect that organization's exemption provided under 42 U.S. 2000e-1 regarding employment practices. See 45 C.F.R. 260.34(e).

A religious organization that receives Federal CSBG funds shall not, in providing program services or benefits, discriminate against an applicant or recipient of CSBG services on the basis of religion, a religious belief, a refusal to hold a religious belief, or a refusal to actively participate in a religious practice. See 45 C.F.R. 260.34(f).

Religious organizations that receive Federal CSBG funds are subject to the same regulation as other non-governmental organizations to account, in accordance with generally accepted auditing/accounting principles, for the use of such funds. Religious organizations may keep Federal CSBG funds they receive for services segregated in a separate account from non-governmental funds. If religious organizations choose to segregate their funds in this manner, only the Federal CSBG funds are subject to audit by the government under the program. See 45 C.F.R. 260.31(h).
